The Fire Scene: Toys for Kids, Benefit Dance

BROADMOOR POLICE Chief Ray Savage buys a ticket from Colma Fire Chief George Desperati for Saturday night's Colma Fire Department Dance for the benefit of the Widows and Orphans Fund. The event will be held at Colma Hall in Colma from 9 p.m. to 2 a.m. Admission is $1. (Post-Times Photo)

COUNTY UNIT ACTS

Double Taxes for 10 Daly City Lots To Be Terminated

The owners of 10 lots in Daly City who have been paying double taxes for police protection will be relieved of the obligation by action of the County Local Agency Formation Commission.

The commission has approved a proposal to exclude the lots from the Broadmoor Police Protection District.

Westlake To Greet Mr. Claus

Santa Claus is on his way to the Westlake Shopping Center in Daly City.

The jolly, bearded gent has left his North Pole workshop and is guiding his reindeer and sleigh towards Westlake. He's due to arrive for his annual stay Friday.

At exactly 2 p.m. Friday, Santa will sweep into the center with thousands of free candy canes for children.

In a salute to Santa and to herald his arrival, Daly City Fire Chief Herbert Ritzmann has promised fire engine escort into the Center for Santa.

All of Santa's fans—young and old alike—are invited to greet him.

With the exception of Friday, Santa will be in the shopping center to take requests from noon to 5 p.m., daily except Sundays.

Starting Monday, Westlake stores will be open six nights each week—Monday through Saturday—until Christmas.

Max Rolih, assistant to County Manager E. R. Stallings, told the commission that 230 other parcels remain in the same predicament, that is, the owners are paying a 47-cent tax rate to the Broadmoor district as well as the regular rate for service by the Daly City Police Department.

Frank Piombo, attorney for the 10 parcels that were excluded, said the situation came about when the city annexed part of the Broadmoor territory.

Rolih told the commission that he will attempt to contact the other owners and urge them to sign a petition for exclusion as well as file individual requests for exclusion by January 1, so that they will not have to pay double taxes next year.

Although the owners have (Please See Page 2, Column 2)

Adam to Be S.M. Ward For a Time

It looks like Adam Espinosa will spend Christmas, as well as Thanksgiving, as a guest of the San Mateo County Receiving Home.

South San Francisco Detective Sal Rosano said last week the boy is, in effect, a ward of the juvenile court, although such an action has not been made formal.

Rosano indicated the boy could not be released, to his parents or anyone else, except by court approval.

He said such approval is unlikely to come until some questions about the boy's apparent abandonment are answered. Considering where the parents are, those answers may be slow in coming.

More than 4,000 entries were received by the Post-Times for last week's final Football Contest.

The Post will also carry the results in next Wednesday's edition.

The 'Magic' Lingers On

D.C. Sisters Save Houdini Mementoes

By JOHN HORGAN

THE GHOST of Harry Houdini might never be brought back by seances held on Halloween night but two Daly City sisters have done their best to preserve the memory of the master magician through the years since his death in 1926.

Minnie and Hattie Mooser of 150 Coronado Drive, who once hosted much of San Francisco's glittering theater life, now live in a small apartment behind the Westlake Shopping Center. The apartment is crammed with theater memorabilia.

After all the talk over the Halloween weekend this year about the various attempts to make contact with the spirit of Houdini (at Earthquake McGoon's and the Wax Museum in San Francisco), the Mooser sisters are upset.

"Houdini wanted to prove that a man could not come back," said Minnie, the younger of the pair as she peered intently through rimless glasses.

CONTRARY to the oft-told report that the one-time master of escape desired to be called back from the grave, the two sisters told a story that differs greatly from the general belief about Houdini.

"Yes, Houdini gave his wife Bess a word to use to call back his spirit, but he did it to prove that it could not be done," Minnie insisted.

"The truth is that Houdini spent his life exposing spiritualism," commented Hattie. "The whole idea of spiritualism is false. Houdini wanted to expose that fraud for what it was worth."

THE MOOSER sisters, a San Francisco theatrical institution from 1921 to 1929 when they operated their Aladdin Studio Tiffin Tea-room, have lived in Daly

Gold Thief Is Handed Stiff Term

1 to 15 Years In S.S.F. Case

The first of four men arrested for the big gold theft in South San Francisco last August 12 was sentenced yesterday to a 1-to-15-year term in state prison.

Superior Judge Louis B. Demattels imposed the maximum sentence while commenting that the burglary at the Wildberg Bros. Refinery appeared to have been well-planned.

This view was confirmed by Probation Officer H. R. Faber, who had recommended prison for the defendant, Emilio Paul Paoletti, 60-year-old San Francisco bartender.

"This was not a run-of-the-mill burglary," Faber wrote in his report, "but one carried out with the finesse of highly skilled individuals in their chosen profession."

Paoletti first became involved, Faber said, when in 1963 he started to sell small quantities of gold stolen by a co-defendant, Guido G. Mastronardi, 35, a former (Please See Page 2, Column 5)

Council Pay Boost Asked In Pacifica

Pacifica City Councilmen tomorrow night will discuss a proposed ordinance that would authorize a salary of $150 per month for each councilman. Councilmen now receive $50 and the mayor $75.

The ordinance is authorized by state legislation passed this year that enables councilmen to pay themselves a salary based upon the population of their cities.

In other business, the council will hear a letter from James Cooper of 856 Dell Road, Pacifica, in which he recommends a limited expenditure of campaign funds by council candidates.

The council also will discuss a letter from William Jepson of 404 Manor Drive, proposing that a priority system be used for development of the city's beachfront land.

Acceptance of any beach development bonds that are proposed would be enhanced, Jepson contends, if the bonds were (Please See Page 2, Column 2)

DIRECTORS TOLD:

D.C. Chamber To Face Challenging And Bright Year

A bright and challenging year was forecast for the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce Thursday at a meeting of the chamber's board of directors.

Edward Morgan, the chamber's new president, noted that Daly City, because of the possibility that the huge Crocker lands south of the city's eastern sector may be annexed, "is on the threshold of an even new and greater achievement." And he added:

"If these lands come into Daly City, this means our chamber has a real task cut out for it in the future."

Morgan opened his first session at the helm of the chamber by noting that "I'm starting a new year for the Chamber of Commerce and it's a sad one."

He asked the directors to stand in a moment of silent tribute to director Frank Curry, who died last Monday, and to Ersel Coyne, wife of chamber director Thomas Coyne, who died early last Wednesday morning.

Morgan said a new format would be undertaken for directors' meetings—providing directors with an agenda and supporting material a week before their meeting.

He asked them to do their "homework" before attending the sessions so that the meetings would be productive and conducted speedily. The directors meet a week before the regular membership meeting each month in the Friar Room of Serra Bowl.

The new president said he'd like to "see if we couldn't make this year the year of the board of directors." And he observed:

"I know of no more talented group in this community than those sitting around this table."

Later, the directors approved the appointment of three men to fill vacancies on the board. The vacancies were caused by the resignations of Frank Martorana and Armand Zirpoli and the death of Curry.

Named to serve out their unexpired terms were Ray Forcina of Skyline Paints; Evert Terminello of the First National Bank of Daly City and Paul Hupf, attorney.

Forcina and Terminello had (Please See Page 2, Column 2)

Ad Is Issue At First Meet For Morgan

By DON MILLER

One of the liveliest first directors' meetings ever conducted by a new president of the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce erupted Thursday afternoon in the Friar Room of Serra Bowl.

Before it was over, one director charged that the chamber was following a policy of trying to be non-sectarian whereas, he insisted, it had been sectarian on occasions in the past.

The meeting was conducted by Edward Morgan, taking the president's gavel for the first time.

Morgan and chamber manager Peter Markovich had drawn up a long agenda that directors had hoped to handle with dispatch but the meeting immediately bogged down on the first item of business.

The item was a request from the Daly City Council that the (Please See Page 2, Column 1)

Hey Kids! Santa Arrives In Westlake Center Fri. (Nov. 26) at 2 p.m.

S.F. Driver Did About All He Could

Pressley of San Francisco could be considered to be an example of a high level of motorist frustration.

Pressley did all he could to stop his automobile at the intersection of West Market and Mission Streets in Daly City but nearly all of his efforts went for naught.

According to police, Pressley's brakes went out as he drove south on Mission and neared the intersection where he was faced with a red light.

He honked his horn to alert other drivers of his predicament. He then shifted into reverse with what he said were "negative" results.

Brakes and gears having failed, Pressley then tried to stop his auto by slamming into two parked cars, owned by Paula Pedone of 505 North Avenue in Pacifica and Edward Bedini of San Francisco. This action also failed.

The last resort the harassed motorist steered his car against a car driven by Joseph De Lauche of 291 Price Street in Daly City, which then bumped into a car driven by Jacob David of San Francisco, which in turn bumped the bumper on a car driven by Harold Galt of San Francisco.

One was hurt, Pressley later was cited for driving with defective brakes.

Members join with the city in sponsoring three half-page complimentary advertisements in special Mary's Help Hospital dedicatory issues being planned by The Post-Times, The Westlake Times and Record and The Monitor.

Morgan recalled that the directors had agreed to place an advertisement in The Post-Times section to "balance" a full-page ad the chamber had placed in The Record earlier this fall.

He also remarked that he believed the chamber's bylaws precluded placing an ad in The Monitor, the official publication of the Catholic Diocese of San Francisco.

After David Friedenberg, immediate past president of the chamber, proposed that the ad be placed in The Post-Times section, director John Wuerthner declared:

"I feel that Mary's Help is one of the greatest things that has ever happened to Daly City and we should place ads in all three papers."

He added that the chamber could "balance" its earlier ad with an ad to be placed before the end of the year with The Post-Times.

After both Morgan and director Bernard Lyett supported Wuerthner's views, director Vincent Murphy questioned Morgan's interpretation of the bylaws in regard to exclusion of The Monitor from any advertising program.

The portion of the bylaws Morgan referred to reads: "This chamber in its activities shall be non-partisan, non-sectarian and non-sectarian."

Murphy said The Monitor could be considered as the same type of publication as The Christian Science Monitor, an international daily published in Boston by the Christian Science Church and non-sectarian in its nature.

When other directors disagreed, Murphy angrily declared:

"I'm going to remind you of this point (the chamber taking a non-sectarian stand). From now on I'm going to remind you and I never miss a meeting."

And he added:

"I'm not defending the Roman Catholic archbishop. Let's face it. He doesn't need my defense. I may be wrong in reading something into this but I'm not about to sit back..."

He then recalled that a few years back the chamber had donated funds to a Jewish hospital. As a result, he said, the been unsuccessful candidates in the last election of directors.

Hupf was recommended by Morgan who noted that Zirpoli had been located in the Westlake Shopping Center area (Bank of America) and that Hupf has offices in the Center.

The directors also discussed a proposed budget for 1966, calling for expenditures of $47,850 and a year-end reserve of $8,000 or a total budget of $55,850.

Last year's budget was $25,000.

Directors were asked to study the proposed budget, which will be voted upon at a future meeting.

In other business, the directors heard a report from Donald Messon, chairman of the chamber's 1966 membership drive. He noted that "membership is the lifeblood of this chamber and directors, I am going to ask you to work."

Monson outlined plans for a membership drive breakfast Tuesday, December 7, at Westlake Bowl. He said each director would be assigned an area been paying taxes to Broadmoor, police service has been provided by the city and not by the district.

At a Daly City Council meeting November 8, City Attorney Hupf said that withdrawal of lands from the Broadmoor district had been complicated by special provisions associated with the legislative act that established the district.

He said petitions prepared for homeowners to sign that would remove their properties from the district were ruled invalid and that new petitions have been distributed, meeting the legal requirements.

chamber's bylaws "have been bent and once bent, you can't bend them back again."

Lyett replied that if wasn't valid to compare the issue to a donation to a Jewish hospital.

"I don't think we're donating here. We're buying space to congratulate a hospital," Lyett remarked.

Members then voted to place the Mary's Help dedicatory ads with both The Post-Times and The Record, which prompted Murphy to observe that the chamber still hadn't "balanced" the ledger between the two newspapers.

He then added:

"I'd like to apologize to the members here today if I seem to have got a little heated. I heard a remark here while we were talking and this remark offended me. I'm a Catholic and I'm very proud of it."

Director Joseph Rohl, sitting at Murphy's left, said quietly:

"I don't exactly agree with Vince Murphy and his view of religion but I'll defend his right to say it."

Earlier in the meeting, Ron Bates, city editor of The Record, told the directors that his publisher had directed him to tell the chamber that The Record would have "no hard feelings" if an ad were not placed in The Record.

He noted, however, that at the time the chamber had agreed to place a balancing ad in The Post's Mary's Help edition, the edition was being planned in conjunction with the San Francisco Examiner.

When the co-operative adventure was dropped because of the newspaper merger in San Francisco, The Record decided to proceed with its own issue, Bates said.

for recruitment and asked to sign up two new members.

The directors also heard an annual report from Chamber Manager Peter Markovich who said the chamber had handled 3,200 inquiries last year.

At the suggestion of Morgan, directors agreed to work through their lunch at future meetings and to end the meetings no later than 2 p.m.

Morgan also suggested that a review of the chamber's dues structure should be made.

"I think we need a good study," he commented.

that evil every time he found it."

HATTIE, WHO for a time ran and directed the San Francisco Children's Theater for charity, has a storehouse of information on the greats of the old theater world but the main interest in her life continues to be the Houdini legend.

She held out a book, published in 1924, entitled "A Magician Among the Spirits," which was written about Houdini. On the cover was the caption: "...he is the relentless enemy of deliberate fraud and the account of his adventures in the investigation and detection of it forms a valuable chapter in the crusade for truth."

According to both Hattie and Minnie, the caption sums up Houdini's attitude on spiritualism.

In fact, if past experience in the Halloween seances means anything, the legendary Houdini was, indeed, telling the truth.

And the Mooser sisters aren't about to let North County residents forget it.

boy who turned up in South San Francisco nearly two weeks ago.

He was wandering in a dark street, and was nearly hit by a car.

Police figured he was abandoned, and started seeking his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Francisco Espinosa, identified as the boy's mother and father, reportedly boarded a jet plane for Vienna the next day.

Contacted by phone, Mrs. Espinosa said she had left Adam, with a note in his pocket, on her mother-in-law's doorstep in San Francisco.

Mrs. Espinosa said she left her youngest son behind because she could not take together enough money to take him with her.

"There was no other choice," she said.

The mother-in-law, contacted by the police, said she knew nothing about the boy's whereabouts and denied having anything to do with his being found in South San Francisco.

By last week, South San Francisco police had prepared enough of a case to convince the district attorney's office they should contact the U. S. State Department to ask Austria to contact the Espinosas.

Police would not comment on what charges are involved, or even if they have established what jurisdiction any supposed criminal acts may have occurred in.

Paintings To Be Displayed At Center

Plans are being finalized for

"Gallery—Art for Everyone," a display of paintings by the San Francisco Artists Guild, to be held at the North County Mental Health Center at 45 Southgate Avenue in Daly City on Saturday and Sunday, December 4 and 5, from 12 to 9 p.m.

On Sunday, December 5, an auction of paintings will be held from 4 to 6 p.m. with a surprise guest, personality in attendance.

A combined committee of the Volunteers of the North County Mental Health Center, the Crystal Springs Junior Women's Club, the Mental Health Auxiliary and the San Francisco Artists Guild, under the chairmanship of artist and mental health volunteer worker Eve Bowman of San Bruno, have arranged for about 100 paintings to be on display to the public.

Part of the proceeds from the sale of paintings will go towards the support of volunteer activities in the Mental Health Center.

The San Francisco Artists Guild is limited to 50 members, and holds outdoor shows throughout the summer months in various locations around the Bay Area.

S.S.F. Man Is Injured

An elderly South San Francisco man was injured last week when struck by a car while crossing a street in the rain.

Milo G. Farnsworth, 56, of 834 Circle Court, was admitted to Peninsula Hospital with a fractured right shoulder.

Police said Farnsworth was walking across Orange Avenue, near El Camino Real but not in a crosswalk, when the accident happened.

He was wearing a dark raincoat, they said.

He was struck by a small car driven by William Coyle, of San Bruno, who was traveling eastward on Orange.

Wildberg employee. It was not determined, Faber said, who first thought of the idea of the burglary, which netted the thieves about $47,000 worth of gold.

"However, this subject (Paoletti) hired two well-known burglars and brought them together with the former employee who laid out the detailed plan of the plant and what to do after the gold was stolen," Faber reported.

In addition to driving the car for the burglary, it was also Paoletti's job to dispose of the gold. At the time of his arrest, he still had $14,000 worth left, which he handed over to police.

Paoletti has been operating as a fence in recent years, Faber reported, and has been involved in a number of burglaries of exclusive homes in San Francisco.

He admitted, the probation officer said, trying to sell some furs stolen from the home of former mayor George Christopher.

The two "well-known burglars" hired by Paoletti were Paul Eipp and Arthur Cornuelle who, Faber said, were retained for $15,000 each. They did not get that much, however, because the take was much less than the $30,000 they had anticipated.

Eipp, Cornuelle and Mastroianni are awaiting trial. Paoletti pleaded guilty.

Thirteen Sets Stolen

An obviously noisy burglary—featuring breaking glass and the scuffling of thieves carrying television sets—was heard and unmolested on a Daly City business street last week.

Police said the burglars threw a rock through the window of the C and G Electric Company at 6222 Mission Street sometime between 2:30 a.m. and 5 a.m.

Then one of them climbed inside and neatly removed the whole window. It was left on the sidewalk.

The 13 portable sets were removed from a display case in the window and presumably loaded on a truck.

At that, the forces of law and order were lucky. The thieves couldn't get into the main store area from the window to cart off anything else.

Bishops Plan Clothes Drive

Inauguration of the seventeenth annual Catholic Bishop's Thanksgiving Clothing Campaign for the Needy Overseas, has been announced by Mgr. Thomas J. Bove, acting vicar general for the Archdiocese of San Francisco.

Some 800,000 Catholics of the Archdiocese of San Francisco have been asked through their 147 pastors from San Rafael to San Jose to bring serviceable clothing, footwear, blankets and bedding to their respective churches during the remainder of November.

All donated material will be distributed to needy persons by the Catholic Relief Services overseas aid agency which last year distributed clothing to 40 million needy persons throughout 79 countries regardless of race, religion or color. The campaign is being conducted in more than 18,000 Catholic parishes throughout the United States.

Especially requested this year are men's work clothes, clothing for children, blankets, quilts and coverlets and bolt goods, cloth remnants and sewing material.

D.C. Service Signs Pact

Mercy Ambulance Service of Daly City has become the first ambulance service in San Mateo County to sign with a union for its employees.

Kevin McDonald of Mercy Ambulance Service met with Harold Perazzo of the Retail Drivers' Local 278 and signed a one-year contract for them to represent the drivers. The Retail Drivers' Union is attempting to organize all ambulance services in San Francisco and San Mateo Counties.

The union will make the wages and hours of all ambulance firms standard.

Mr. and Mrs. Kevin McDonald, owners of Mercy Ambulance Service of Daly City, have returned from the National Convention of the Ambulance Association of America that was held in Kansas City, Mo.

The convention displayed the latest life saving and patient comfort devices. New equipment and new methods will be in use shortly in the Mercy ambulances.

Swim Classes Set on Coast

Inauguration of a Christmas vacation "Learn-to-Swim" program sponsored by the Pacific Park, Beach, and Recreation Department, has been announced by Richard Burton, program director.

The course, consisting of ten lessons, will be taught from December 20 to 31 at Terra Nova High School swimming pool in Linda Mar.

Tiny tot students can be from three years of age if they are 48 inches tall, Burton said.

Santa Claus will visit the classes on the 24th, and the program is planned to conclude with a water carnival.

Driver Hurt In Collision

One person was injured in a three-car collision at Dorchester Drive and South Mayfair Avenue in Daly City shortly after 5:30 p.m. last Tuesday.

Robert J. Coulter, 25, of 80 Oaklawn Drive, Daly City, driver of one of the cars, was treated at Kaiser Foundation Hospital in South San Francisco for neck and shoulder injuries and released.

The drivers of the other autos were identified as Joseph E. Edwards, 19, of San Francisco, and Edwin R. Short, 17, of 23 Castleton Avenue, Daly City.

Firefighters To Finish Training

Eleven men are completing their basic fire training at the U.S. Naval Fire Fighting School at Treasure Island.

Upon completion of the training they will be assigned to positions throughout Daly City.

Here are the men: Albert Da Cunha, Greg Hanlon, James Hill, Robert Hubbard, Robert Jacobs, Jim Langwell, Russ Lease, Tom Mackerracher, Lee Paden, Charles Recasens, and James Scott.

RAINCOAT STOLEN

Paul Arrowsmith of 77 Oakwood Drive, Daly City, reported to police last week that a raincoat and gloves had been stolen from an auto, parked at Pasadena Street and Geneva Avenue.

COAST C OF C Changing Role Is Talk Subject

The changing role of Chamber of Commerce to "community organizations" was emphasized by guest speaker, James Cooper, at the Pacifica Chamber of Commerce Luncheon Meeting last week.

Cooper, who lives in Pacifica, and has been with the Greater San Francisco Chamber of Commerce for 17 years as assistant manager, described how Chambers of Commerce, "accomplish collectively what no one of them could do individually."

"It creates," he said, "a central agency which lends itself to improving business and a better community."

He outlined the history, structure and problems of the San Francisco Chamber. "The civic problems," he said, "also appear on the Pacifica scene."

He complimented the local Chamber for its 1965-66 Business Directory.

An Old Fashioned Town Meeting, inaugurated by the San Francisco Chamber, he described as "establishing a rapport between the San Francisco business community and City Hall."

He listed Pacifica scholars who are part of their "Salute to Scholarship" program: James Boyette, Ron Ball, Ken Kirkland, Kathy Drake, Patty McCarty, Phil Wells, and John McBride.

Cooper concluded his talk by emphasizing that, "no business man, however small his activity, can afford to deny support to this local chamber."

Colma Votes Pay Hike For Councilmen

Two city councils in the North County are involved in pay raises for their members.

The Colma City Council voted itself a raise to $75 per month per member at its last meeting.

The Pacifica City Council is presently hearing arguments on a proposed move to boost its members' salaries from $50 to $150.

The moves are in accordance with state legislation on the matter which makes such pay hikes both legal and feasible in small cities.

Under a new state law, city councils may pay councilmen salaries based on population.

Lions Hold Eye Clinic

The Daly City-Colma Lions Club will sponsor free eye examinations Friday from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the "Eye-Mobile" at the parking lot next to Auditorium on Southgate Avenue in the Westlake shopping center.

The mobile eye examining unit is run by professional aides and has been rented by the Lions for this one-day visit.

Personnel Board To Mull Salaries

The Daly City Personnel Board has announced that all requests concerning salary or fringe benefit adjustments for consideration in the 1966-67 budget must be presented in writing to the board prior to Dec. 31, 1965.

Requests for changes, additions, and adjustments should be made in complete and specific terms; however, the inclusion of supporting evidence and arguments may be delayed until public hearing is held on the matter.

By LE PACINI

WONDER WHEN — or where — the pro draft war will end. With the rival leagues initiating their respective college drafts earlier each year in competition with the other guy, it won't be too long before they'll be drafting, say, 1975's picks in 1968.

Now that's what we call red shirting. Or would it be diaper tampering?

Actually, such gun-jumping might not be such a bad idea, in some cases. For instance, it would have been one way to showcase Y.A. Tittle with hair.

SINCE THE Sporting News' recent publication of its annual poll naming major league players of the year, we fear for the safety of C.C. Johnson Spink, publisher of the St. Louis based baseball journal.

In case you didn't know it, Willie Mays and Tony Oliva were chosen Players of the Year in their respective leagues, while Sandy Koufax and Jim Grant were named Pitchers of the Year.

That adds up to three Negroes and one Jew, and we don't think the KKK appreciates it.

Meanwhile, the Sporting News operates as usual, spewing its vast numbers of post-season statistics.

One of their most interesting recent studies was a "clutch" chart, listing men who had most frequently driven in the tie-breaking or winning runs.

Not surprisingly, rookie second baseman Jim Lefebvre tied for the major league lead in that department, knocking across 14 crucials. Six of those game-winning blows came in the frantic September stretch drive.

Chicago Club outfielder Williams was the man who tied Lefebvre. Mays was third, with 12, while Jimmy Hart and Willie McCovey tied for tenth with several others (two of them being Ron Fairly and Lou Johnson), with eight game winners.

Floyd Robinson of Chicago and Fred Whitfield of Cleveland tied for the AL lead with 10 big ones.

LOCAL STUFF

We've heard some tall tales in our time about what high school coaches have had to endure from green athletes, but Terra Nova assistant coach Raul Saucedo related one to us the other day that's so incredible it HAS to be serious.

We were telling Saucedo about the plight of former Tiger Coach Floyd Gonella when he greeted his first Terra Nova squad while the Coast school was sharing Westmoor with the Rams during that hectic first year of the school's existence.

Gonella's squad was so green that many of them didn't know where their various pads belonged.

But Saucedo topped that one easily. He was reminiscing about how far this year's green squad had come, and about how several seniors came out for the team who had never before played football (ironically, a few of them proved invaluable).

One day, about six weeks after their initial Tiger practice, Saucedo was working with the linemen in preparation for a coming game, and called for all the tackles to gather around him.

They all did except one of the big senior boys, whom Saucedo spotted working with the guards. He shouted the boy's name, and when the kid obediently trotted up to the group, Saucedo snapped, "Didn't you hear me calling for all the tackles to group over here?"

The kid looked at him blankly, for a moment, and then his face broke into a wide grin of enlightenment. "Oh, is THAT what position I play?"

SAUCEDO swears it to be true, and we'll go along with him, even though he did tell us that ANOTHER kid just out for the squad didn't know how many men were on a football team.

If Tiger head coach Bob Fisher isn't named 1965's Coach of the Year he certainly deserves a consolation prize: Most Patient Man of the Year.

South City's Greg Jones may not be the best running back in California, but we shudder to think how much he could have proven under the right conditions.

First he was weakened by a bout with mononucleosis, which forced him to miss the season's opener and hampered his training period a great deal. Then, even though he was reported to be out at least weeks with the blood disorder, he bounced back to gain 225 yards in the second game of the season, during which he also sprained an ankle which never fully recovered.

Add the fact that Warrior coach Ray DeJong is not the type to pour it on or risk the health of a boy, and thereby seldom uses Jones for more than half a game even when Greg's completely healthy, and like we said, it makes you wonder what the kid could have done.

And should another fine South City athlete, former baseball star Tollo Soliata (now laboring in the Yankee chain), beat the odds and make the bigs, he'll be the first Samoan-born man ever to pull it off.

Two local boys, Bruce Hix of Westmoor and Al Gallagher, a San San Francisco import, are currently going good for the Giants of the Peninsula league.

Both were signed as third sackers, but Hix is now performing at second.

Gallagher was the Giants' first choice, you remember, in the new major draft plan.

Also in the Peninsula League is ex-San Francisco Stater Bob Cavilli, son of the former San Francisco Seal shortstop.

Bob, who also plays the infield, is doing more pitching these days, to take advantage of his shotgun arm.

INTERESTING QUOTE: By 49er defensive end Leon Clark after his 75-yard touchdown run via a recovered fumble in the Detroit game. "When I got to the end zone the first thing I thought was, 'I've got to get to the oxygen . . .'" And then, "When I got to the side lines, Charley Kruger was on the only oxygen tank left, but I gasped, 'I need it' and he gave it to me."

Whatever happened to the well-conditioned athlete?

Coast Cage Loop Set

The Pacific Park, Beach and Recreation Department will conduct a youth basketball league for boys in the eighth, ninth and tenth grades, and tryouts for the teams will be held Thursday at the Oceana High School gymnasium.

The league will be conducted at Terra Nova High School's gymnasium and Oceana's on alternating Thursday nights.

The league will begin play on December 9.

Adult volleyball has commenced in Pacific. The league, featuring six teams, will continue to play every Tuesday night at the Terra Nova gym through the winter and spring seasons.

EC-SSF KEY GAME

Trio of Tilts End Grid Year

By JOHN HORGAN

THE NORTH Peninsula League grid race has moved into its final week with three games on tap to close out the football year.

The big one will be played at Clifford Field in South San Francisco on Thanksgiving Day.

South San Francisco (8-0-0 for the year (4-3-1 on the season and 4-0-0 in the NPL) will duel El Camino for the title in a game which was postponed 10 days ago.

In other contests, Oceana (1-7-0 and 0-4-0) travels to Westmoor (2-6-0 and 1-3-0) and Jefferson (1-4-2 and 1-3-0) hosts Terra Nova (4-3-0 and 2-2-0).

All North County eyes will be focused on that EC-SSF tussle on Turkey Day.

BOTH TEAMS are undefeated and untied in league play. Despite a dismal practice season which saw them lose three of four games played, El Camino is expected to give the Warriors their toughest league game to date.

South San Francisco, which has now won 15 straight football games for the longest prep streak in San Mateo County, has cruised through its NPL slate thus far with barely a hint of trouble.

But EC might be just the club to cause them concern.

The game, slated for 11 a.m. on the now-soggy Clifford Field turf, ought to be a sell-out with upward of 5,000 fans anticipated for the inter-city struggle.

Word is out that officials of the league and the schools might be open to making the game an annual holiday game.

If all goes well in this one those officials may consider that move.

IN THE other two games Westmoor is a heavy favorite to take its tilt from Oceana and the Jeff-TN tussle is a rated toss-up.

Pete Matisi's Rams, rebounding from a wretched six-game losing streak to beat arch rival Jefferson, 20-0, last weekend, are just finding themselves—but too late.

The big Westmoor club, a major North County disappointment all year, rates the favorite's role, however, over the Sharks of Jess Jones which have managed only one win all season (versus soon-to-be league member Half Moon Bay).

The Tiger-Indian game might be the best game of the day.

BOB FISHER'S crew, with one of the finest all-year efforts by any team in the entire county, have compiled a fine 4-3-1 season's log and barely lost to El Camino last Friday, 13-7.

Jeff, like their Daly City neighbors Westmoor, has been a disappointment this campaign. The Indians have yet to jell.

This final slate of games might well be the most entertaining trio of contests all year in the NPL.

NPL Cagers Start Drills

Pre-season drills have already begun for North Peninsula League varsity basketball teams.

Limited to a total of 20 games over the whole year, NPL schools will this year play 12 league games apiece and participate in their own league tournament just prior to the NPL season.

Half Moon Bay has been added to the NPL for the basketball season and will become an official part of the circuit with this new season.

Westmoor, the defending cage champion of the loop, is expected to find repeating for the title most difficult.

Prime opposition will come from South San Francisco and Jefferson.

Westmoor Ends Loss Skein, 20-0

The Westmoor High School team won't win the North Peninsula League championship this year, but as far as the Rams' fans are concerned they are the champs.

Coach Pete Matisi's crew, who found the victory trail elusive this season, savored the sweet scene of success Friday after winning the mythical championship of Daly City by knocking off cross-town rival Jefferson, 20-0, on the latter's field.

The Rams, winless in three trips to the post in the NPL up until yesterday, scored once in the second quarter and twice in the final stanza to rap up their first league win of the season.

For Jefferson, it was their third loss in four outings and gave them a fourth place tie with Westmoor.

Reserve quarterback John Helck gave Westmoor all of the points it needed in the second quarter when he unloaded a touchdown pass to end Corky Phelps which was good for 84 yards.

In the final period, the Rams recovered a fumble on the Jeff 15-yard line and three plays later Carl Fleischauer broke into the end zone from five yards out for the score. The Rams put the final touches on their win when moments later Tony Rodriguez went five yards for the score.

The Indians' last-ditch rally went 60 yards before dying on the Ram 15-yard line.

Westmoor closes out its season tomorrow, hosting Oceana in a 2:45 p.m. game while Jeff takes on Terra Nova on the Indians' field.

Johnny Heick—Rams' 'Sensation'

BIG NUMBER 24, Westmoor High School's John Heick, is stopped here in the Rams' big game with Jefferson last Friday, but he wasn't stopped often. The husky Ram played quarterback for the first time in two years and ran and passed the Indians silly. He tossed for over 200 yards against the archrival Indians and threw one touchdown pass. He also intercepted a pass on defense to make the day a complete success for the once-frustrated Rams. Heick's one-man show was one of the best individual efforts of the whole NPL campaign. (Norton Pearl Photo by Willie Kee)

FIFTEENTH IN A ROW

Warriors Switch Tactics, Aerial Game Routs Sharks

The South San Francisco High School Warriors switched tactics Friday, and the result was their fourth straight North Peninsula League victory and their fifteenth straight win over a two-year span.

Coach Ray DeJong's Warriors, noted for their devastating ground attack, took advantage of the air lanes and registered a 40-6 victory over the hapless Oceana Sharks on the loser's field.

The Warriors ran up a 20-0 score before the host team was able to get its only TD, and then scored once more to take a 27-0 lead off of the field at halftime.

The victory added emphasis to South S.F.'s Thanksgiving Day clash with El Camino, which will be for the NPL championship.

Again it was that Jones boy, Greg, who reaped havoc on the winless Sharks. The Warrior halfback scored three touchdowns, all in the first half, hitting paydirt on runs of 15 and 25 yards and running back a pass interception 35 yards for another score.

The Warriors took just eight plays to get on the board following the recovery of a Shark fumble in the first few seconds of the game.

Fullback Mike Memphers did the honors, slashing over from the three-yard line to make it 6-0, Warriors.

Jones then put on his exhibition for the day, running in the interception and scoring from 15 yards out.

The Sharks rallied with a score of their own when quarterback Jim Varner handed off to Floyd McElroy and the Oceana halfback raced 79 yards for his team's only score of the day.

In the second half, quarterback John Moro, who completed 9 out of 13 tosses for 202 yards, hit Sam Gregory with a 71-yard scoring pass to make it 33-6. Reserve quarterback Vince Olson put the finishing touches on the day's scoring by tossing a two-yard TD pass to Gregory on the last play of the game.

Colts Edge Tigers, 13-7

By GARRY NIVER

Somebody, anybody with a loose dime, ring up the South San Francisco High School Warriors on the Alexander Graham Bell device and tell them that there is going to be a championship football game played Thursday morning.

The El Camino Colts set the scene for a first class finish in the North Peninsula League when they held on for a 13-7 win over Terra Nova on the winner's field yesterday.

The Colts of Bob Sexton and the Warriors of Ray DeJong clashed in a cross-town rivalry at SSP's Clifford Field at 11 a.m. Thursday in a game which will decide the winner of the 1965 NPL race. Both teams are 4-0 in the NPL this season.

Actually it was a fumble recovery in the end zone by defensive back Skip Nemes late in the second quarter which provided the margin of victory for the Colts.

El Camino took command from the outset, marching 65 yards in 16 plays, capped by halfback Russ Outlaw's three yard touchdown scamper around right end.

Just before the half the Colts were able to make it 13-0 when Terra Nova, backed up to their own goal line, bobbled a lateral and Nemes alertly fell on it for the score. Ornelas converted to give the Colts the 13-0 edge. The Tigers penetrated to the Colt ten yard line once in the first half, but finally yielded the ball on downs.

The second half was even more of a defensive battle, with the Tiger interior line, paced by the rugged play of Don Henkel, Mike Ward and Vince Salvomini, tightening up on the Colts.

Terra Nova put themselves back into contention just after the outset of the final period when Clancy Smith took a reverse handoff on a punt and raced 90 yards down the right sidelines for the Tigers' only score of the day. Jim Bonner tossed to Mike Kenney for the conversion, making it 13-7.

After a honeymoon tour of Europe the couple plan to live in San Francisco.

P-TA Events

Westmoor Group to Hold Game and Chicken Dinner

The Westmoor P-TA will sponsor a chicken dinner and the annual junior-senior basketball game on December 4 beginning at 5 p.m.

For $1.50 adults can eat one-half of a chicken, while children can feast on one-fourth of a chicken for $1. The price also includes a ticket to the basketball game to be held in the Westmoor gym at 7:30 p.m.

Those not able to sample the culinary delights may purchase 50-cent tickets at the gym door for the basketball game.

As in past years the chefs' hat will be donned by Al Smith, last year's P-TA prezzy, who will cook the chickens. On the menu with the chicken are mashed potatoes and gravy, peas and corn, cole slaw, cranberry sauce, hot rolls and butter, coffee or milk, and ice cream and cookies. Dinner will be served in the cafeteria from 5 to 7 p.m.

The cafeteria will take on a festive air for this event, as all the decorations, which will be sold after having served as centerpieces, are used for Christmas.

Meeting every Wednesday at

Mrs. Theodore Bravos' home to make the decorations are her Ways and Means co-chairmen Mrs. Reed Richards, Mrs. Joseph Arch, and Mrs. Arthur Reshke. Assisting them are Mrs. Lloyd Eagleton and Mrs. Martin Tonnissen.

Choir boys made from Readers' Digests, topiary trees, and manzanita trees with hand-made decorations of angels have been constructed. An added feature will be a small Christmas tree with more hand-made decorations for sale.

Since the proceeds of this event are used to finance scholarships for Westmoor seniors and since this is the only fund-raising event of that P-TA chapter, Mrs. Richards has been soliciting donations to keep the cost down.

At last report Mrs. Richards and her committee had secured donations for almost the entire dinner, including the chickens and even the printed menus.

Tickets for this event may be purchased by calling Mrs. Richards at 756-4271, Mrs. Arch at 756-3885, Mrs. Reshke at 992-4645, and Mrs. Bravos at 756-4278.

WITH APPROPRIATE weather a clutter of fallen leaves in the yard and the brave, bright colors of cypripediums giving sparkle to the otherwise dreary mood of the garden, the nation's annual day of Thanksgiving has arrived!

Only two short weeks ago the prolonged Indian Summer made thoughts of turkey, hot pumpkin pie, and mulled cider seem slightly incongruous. Now, after a taste of autumn's stormy bluster, warm kitchens and the smell of spice and roasting fowl will seem most welcome. May the day be one filled with good things for each of you!

WITH A bit of snap and bite now in the wind, the social pace perked up this week and shows every indication of continuing its frantic and headlong rush of teas, dinners and fashion shows right up to those final moments, before Christmas, when shopping and cooking or a multitude of guests keeps most of the social activities down to a minimum.

Sugar... n' Spice

By NELL NORTON

THANKSGIVING is Thursday and I hope you have a wonderful day, surrounded by your family and friends. And that your Thanksgiving dinner is perfect in every way.

And on the day after Thanksgiving, when you are relaxing and still basking in the sunshine of all the praise your dinner evoked, why don't you peruse this column carefully and decide which kind of fruit cake you'd like to make this year?

Since both of the cakes are equally delicious and require about the same amount of effort in the baking, the choice will be between dark and light, unless you'd like to make both, as I did.

LIGHT FRUITCAKE

2 cups flour, enriched all purpose
1 1/2 cups golden raisins
1 1/2 cups candied cherries, whole (use both red and green, for beauty)
3/4 cup citron
3/4 cup walnuts, halves
3/4 cup blanched almonds, split
1 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
5 eggs, well beaten
1 teaspoon lemon flavoring
1/2 teaspoon rum flavoring
Sift flour, measure; add raisins, cherries, citron, walnuts and almonds. Blend sugar and shortening together until fluffy. Add eggs, lemon and rum flavorings; beat thoroughly. Add flour-fruit mixture gradually, stirring to blend well.

Pour into 9-inch tube pan which has been well greased and lined with greased brown wrapping paper. Bake in slow oven (250 degrees) about three hours, placing a pan with hot water on bottom of oven.

Cake is done when it feels firm on top and pulls away from sides of pan. Cool completely on rack before removing from pan. To store wrap in waxed paper, put in loosely covered container.

LET'S PAUSE

here and talk a little about making fruit cakes. The first and most obvious thing about a fruit cake is that it isn't an inexpensive variety of cake, secondly, it doesn't fall into the quick and easy method of cake making and baking. However, it's a most delicious and rewarding cake to bake and well worth any time and expense involved, in my estimation.

Since fruit cake takes a long time to bake we must add protection to keep it from burning and sticking to the pan. So we grease the pan, and the papers with which we line the pan. Heavy brown wrapping paper is what I've always used and it works fine. The greasing and papering is a messy job, so get that out of the way before you start on the cakes.

I recently read of a suggestion that you place a piece of aluminum foil over the top of the pan, during the first baking period, so the cake can rise to its full extent before it crusts over. Since my cakes are made a year ahead (these recipes were my last year's fruit cakes) I will try this method on this year's cakes.

The first cake is a light cake and has no spices or seasonings, other than the lemon and rum flavoring. So that the cake is very mild and the fruits dominate it.

This dark cake is quite another story, possibly more of the kind to which you are accustomed. Filled to be sure, but it has the added zip of spices, strawberry preserves and a bit of coffee. We found it most tasty.

DARK FRUIT CAKE

2 cups dark seedless raisins
1 cup figs, chopped
2 cups golden seedless raisins
1 cup dates, chopped
2 cups sliced mixed candied fruits
2 cups chopped walnuts
2 1/2 cups sifted flour
3/4 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 teaspoon cloves
1/2 teaspoon ginger
1 cup butter
1 cup sugar
4 eggs
1/2 cup strawberry preserves
1/4 cup cold coffee
COMBINE THE fruits and nuts. Take one-half cup of your flour and sift it over the fruits. Take the remaining two cups and add the soda, salt, and spices; sift.

Cream the butter, gradually add the sugar and cream together until light and fluffy. Blend in well-beaten eggs, strawberry preserves and coffee.

Stir in the floured fruit and nut mixture. Lastly add the sifted dry ingredients and mix well. Now you spoon this yummy looking mixture into your prepared pan (I use a large tube pan) and place in a 250-degree oven about three hours. But do test it as it nears its finish, for ovens vary and you should be careful to watch that it doesn't cook too long. Use a cake tester if you own one, or use my method, a folded clean broom straw.

Cool cake before removing from pan, then allow it to cool completely before removing papers. Wrap in several thicknesses of cheese cloth which have been soaked in bourbon, wrap again in heavy foil and store in a cool, dry place.

This storing away in the bourbon cheese cloth allows the cake to ripen and adds greatly to its flavor.

Sodality Christmas
The Sodality of Our Lady of the Assumption of St. Thomas More Church will hold its annual Christmas sale after the masses on Sunday, December 5, in the school library. Holiday decorations, aprons, and a variety of other items will be sold. There will be a special grab bag for the children. Coffee and donuts will be served.

Art Guild Of Pacifica Sets Show

Pacifica's outstanding yearly cultural event, the Christmas Formal Fine Arts and Crafts Exhibit, is again in the preparation stage. Plans are well under way for this sixth annual show by the Art Guild of Pacifica.

The event will be held at the historic Pedro Point Firehouse on December 4 and 5 from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Previous formal shows by the Art Guild have been well attended and acclaimed.

Many of the artists have had one-man shows, and the Art Guild has become recognized as one of the most active and stimulating factors in the city.

The group has had award-winning representation at the San Mateo Fiesta, San Francisco Art Festival, California State Fair and many other state-wide exhibits.

Artist Luther Sparker, chairman of this year's formal Christmas show, is being assisted by Jean Patterson and Lucille Sutherland, refreshments; Dorothy King, decorations; Bob Southworth and Alda Jean Hekhuis, advertising; Belle Nau and Roberta Ewald, invitations, and Connie Hegedus and Lillian Neahrey, publicity.

The public is cordially invited to attend, enjoy the various forms of fine arts and crafts on exhibit, and shop for Christmas giving.

The Drum Major Leads the Way

DRUM MAJOR Al Cordoza rears back and struts the classic form of all band drum majors as members of the 63-piece Jefferson band line up in formation in the background. The band has been invited to perform at the dedication of Mary's Help Hospital

December 18. Last month, the group was one of a number of high school bands that played at halftime at the Army-Stanford game. (Post-Times Photo)

OOMPAH SINCE 1957

Indian Band Wins Honor

By JOHN HORGAN

SINCE ITS inception in 1957, the Jefferson High School Marching Band has become acknowledged as Daly City's finest and most widely known musical representative.

Under the direction of Richard Larsen, the 63-piece group has established itself as one of the outstanding high school marching bands in the Bay Area.

Over the years the band has brought Jefferson a veritable bushel of honors and awards.

One of the most significant awards won by the group was garnered last summer at the Redwood City July Fourth Parade. The Indian marchers took first place in their division.

They capped the summer season by participating in the Republican Party's National Convention held at the Cow Palace.

In past years, the band has:

Taken a second place in the city of Daly City's 50th Anniversary Celebration in 1961.

Won the Grand Award in the Frontier Parade in 1964 at Linda Mar.

Received a Special Award in the Veterans' Day Parade in Linda Mar in 1962.

Participated in the San Francisco State Homecoming every year since 1957.

Won second place in the Memorial Day Parade in San Mateo in 1964.

Besides competitive marching, the band has distinguished itself by performing at a host of functions, games, and events throughout the years.

THE BAND performed last month at the Stanford University Band Day where massed bands from high schools all over Northern California converged on the Indian campus to play at halftime of the Army-Stanford game.

On December 18, the group will play at the Mary's Help Hospital dedication.

This month, besides the San Francisco State Homecoming, the band has played at all halftimes of Jefferson High School football games, performed at Hunter's Point Naval Shipyard at halftime of the Pointers' game with the Alameda Coast Guard, and has entered a national band contest sponsored by Walt Disney Studios.

The Indian band filmed its rendition of the score of "Mary Poppins" October 21 and has submitted it for judging. Any high school band in the U.S. could enter the contest and judging will take place by early next month.

The grand prize is an expense-free trip for the winning band to Disneyland December 30 and participation in the Tournament of Roses Parade Jan. 1, 1966.

COMMENT

30 Years After China Clipper

YESTERDAY MARKED a most important anniversary in the history of the Bay Area and, indeed, an anniversary of world-wide importance.

For it was on Nov. 22, 1935, that Pan American Airways sent the first China Clipper winging westward to Hawaii and the Orient to begin the era of world-wide aviation. In a very practical sense it was the birth of the international air travel age and a cornerstone on which the vast network of modern air transport was firmly and safely established. In a wider sense it was, though none knew it then, a precursor of the air-space age.

In the 30 years that have passed since that historic China Clipper flight the entire world has benefited, and San Mateo County, in particular, has benefited by becoming a major base for the Pan American operations that grew out of that first flight in 1935.

TODAY, PAN AMERICAN employs 2,600 people in San Mateo County and brings it a payroll of $30 million a year, plus many more millions each year in taxes, services, and sales of goods. Moreover, the San Francisco International Airport in this county has become a center from which the people of our county can reach almost any capital in the world within the space of a day.

The anniversary of that first, bold venture into world air transport, therefore, is of very real importance to San Mateo County and all of us who live here will join in hearty congratulations to Pan American Airways on this remarkable anniversary.

The Buttons Are Popping Off of California Vests

THE UNITED STATES Census Bureau, at long last, has come around to open admission that California now has the largest population of any state in the union. As of July 1, the Census Bureau estimates, California's population has moved up to 18,602,000 humbling the once proud state of New York by more than half a million.

This conclusive proof of premier position among the states brings mixed feelings to Californians. We can pop our buttons with pride at finally surpassing the Empire State in population, but we can also feel rueful over what the population championship means to us in the practical terms of taxation and all of the problems that grow out of the rapid increase in the number of people the state and all of its public entities must serve.

In San Mateo County where proportionate growth has continually accelerated, we have managed to keep pretty well abreast of the population tide and every new citizen is assured of services equal to those afforded longtime residents. However, the pressure keeps growing with each regular and special census and shows no signs of abating.

Before we get too proud over the population championship, it might be well to remember the old admonition that "Pride goeth before a fall."

Nevertheless, that popping sound you may be hearing is the noise of buttons bursting off of our California vest.

Winters Hit At Ft. Bragg

Barbara Bladen

COMEDIANS are a brand all of their own. No one expects a be-man type to grab you into his arms at first introduction. No one expects a cowboy actor to be rolling his own cigarettes. No one expects Vince Edwards to take your pulse instead of shaking your hand. At least I don't.

Somewhat I expected Jonathan Winters to be funny. He wasn't. That didn't phase me one bit. I kept smiling like a Cheshire cat all during our recent interview in Fort Bragg where the monumentally funny man is winding up chores for the Mirisch Company's film, "The Russians Are Coming The Russians Are Coming."

There's always a letdown when people don't live up to expectations and if Jonny cut up in public as much as his fans want him to, they'd lock him up as a nut.

There he was, looking normal and sane, viewing rushes of the previous day's shooting with his plain, thirtyish looking blonde wife. We talked about the movie, the town, the weather and all manner of small chit chat that didn't lead to a single side splitting quip. At least nothing that I could put onto paper.

ALL THE WHILE we were talking, I noticed everyone's eyes on us. According to Carl Reiner, his co-star in the comedy Norman Jewison is producing and directing, "he can turn it on or off." No one takes chances on missing the comedian's "on" moments and they buzz around him like photographers in a bunny club.

Johnny sizes people up and instinctively "puts them on." He can launch into a wild story with a straight face and change accents so fast, you've been his straight man for 10 minutes before the joke dawns. I was prepared for that but it wasn't until we got inside the old, abandoned movie house which the company is using every night as a projection room that I saw him open up and relax into a running commentary that paralleled his actions on the screen.

Once during an interview with Sid Caesar, with whom Winters had co-starred in "It's a Mad, Mad, Mad, Mad World," the senior comedian remarked that Kramer must have enough extra comedy footage to make another film. He admitted that Winters hardly ever "turned off" during the filming of that story and when teamed off camera with Reiner, Rooney, Durante, Berle and himself the routines were a priceless quantity of unwritten, unfilmed, unrecorded comic genius.

Buri Buri Methodist

THE BURI BURI Community Methodist Club at 115 El Campo Drive in South San Francisco was founded in 1948. The first service was held on the present site September 26, 1948. The new building was dedicated in December of 1956. Six pastors have preceded the present pastor, Rev. Gilbert Vieira. They were: Robert Boswell, Thomas Krumpke, Richard Fitch, Romaine Swedenburg, Roland Martin, and Allen Lewis. Vieira has been pastor for four years.

Better Business

Heater Repairs Bear Watching

Lorene Beasley

IF YOU are thinking about having your furnace or heating unit checked for winter use, don't be victimized by the "furnace gypsy" — the heating "expert" who offers to clean your furnace free and who always finds something wrong with the heating equipment.

In the majority of cases the "something wrong" is simply a guide to sell a new furnace. Permitting itinerants to make an "inspection" and make repairs often results in the home owner paying an exorbitant bill when all that was needed was a minor adjustment.

THE BETTER Business Bureau across the country are receiving inquiries concerning seasonal misrepresentations in the heating business. San Mateo County has many heating firms whose reputations are above reproach. However, it is this guide to gain admission plagued with unethical firms into the home, he checks the and, as a consequence, people are at a loss as to whom to trust.

How does one know if the furnace inspector is legitimate? How can you be assured a heating firm is reputable? How do you know whether the furnace actually needs repairs?

First, if your furnace is not working properly, phone the Pacific Gas and Electric Company. They will be happy to send out a man to check your furnace. When their representative calls, make sure that he is an official representative of P. G. & E. Under no circumstances allow your furnace to be removed before it has been given an impartial examination by P. G. & E.

BEWARE OF door-to-door Better Business Bureau, the woman wrote she had been serviced for ten years by a well-known heating firm. A door-to-door expert offered to service and inspect her furnace for $8.00. He found one of the controls faulty. She agreed to pay for the extra service of $11.00 and $13.00 for the control placement. The furnace is releasing deadly gas fumes or distributing poorly and she called the "expert" back again. This time she was told a pump was necessary. This would cost $85.00. The woman told the "expert" at this point that she had no money to pay for the pump.

When the weather turned cold, she called back her regular service man whose service call was $13.00. He found two wires cut. He reconnected these wires for the price of the service call.

THE BETTER Business Bureau recommends:

Get at least three estimates from reliable companies. Read and understand your contract before signing.

If installation calls for home alterations, be sure a permit is obtained for all work and that the work has been satisfactorily completed before signing a completion certificate.

Cozumel And The Good Life

Don Miller

SITE OF ancient temples, once the rendezvous of pirates, the island of Cozumel in the eastern Caribbean off the coast of the Yucatan is one Mexican resort that any true connoisseur of relaxed living in a superb tropical setting should not pass up.

Discovered by the Spanish explorer Juan de Grijalva in 1518, Cozumel three and a half centuries later has remained largely untouched by most of the trends of civilization and as a result, its 3,500 inhabitants probably are the friendliest, the happiest, the most care-free group of people living in Mexico today.

The island is only 30 miles long and 10 miles wide and sits like a green gem in a sun-splashed sea that ranges from emerald green to deep azure—colors so vivid and so dazzling that the traveler who has never seen a Caribbean setting will find it difficult to keep from looking out over the sea time and time again.

In terms of the pace of much of the societies of the world today, Cozumel has the advantage—and we call it an advantage for the tourist seeking to get away from it all—of having only 30 passenger cars, no television and no phone service to the mainland.

Most of the inhabitants are nestled in the picturesque village of San Miguel on the leeward side of the island. A road runs along the leeward side a few miles north and a few miles south of San Miguel and that's all.

PERHAPS THE top attraction of the island to the visitor seeking an escape is the unhurried atmosphere that prevails—the knowledge that there is nothing to do but laze on beautiful, white beaches or experience the joys of snorkeling in heavenly lagoons or pit one's skill against the wiles of the marlin, sailfish, tarpon and a host of other fish just off shore.

Because the waters of Cozumel are so incredibly translucent, snorkeling, SCUBA diving and spear fishing have become the most popular recreational activities in Cozumel—not only with tourists but with the natives as well.

At no other point on the island has snorkeling found such a magnificent outlet as in Chancanab lagoon, about a 40-minute bicycle ride from San Miguel or if you prefer, a few minutes drive by cab.

The underwater surprises of Chancanab were featured in Holiday magazine six years ago, got a reprise in Life earlier this year, and last month were in the spotlight again in Sports Illustrated and Esquire magazines.

Because of this publicity, Chancanab is going to lose some of the attraction it now has for the real delight in snorkeling around what can only be described as a truly tropical paradise setting is in slipping into the waters when there is virtually no one else on the scene.

For swimming solo in Chancanab might be compared to having been shipwrecked on a South Seas island and discovering, after a while, a placid lagoon of every shade of green and blue, absolutely clear and alive with hundreds of fish of all shapes and colors.

ANOTHER AREA in which the water-minded tourist may experience the fascination of seeing an unending procession of tropical fish almost at arm's reach beneath his face mask is a lagoon that is called the caletta and which is home for many of the island's fishing and tour boats.

The caletta, for some reason we could not determine, is not a popular snorkeling area for tourists and yet, its roster of marine life easily equals or surpasses that found in Chancanab down the road.

Perhaps it is the abundance of arizos that dot the subterranean depths that keeps people away. The arizo is a porcupine-type of marine life that boasts an armament of long, black quills that are extremely sharp and painful when one comes into contact with them.

We had the traumatic experience of accidentally brushing a hand against one while snorkeling along and after looking incredulously at a half dozen black points in our fingers and at the black fluid seeping into the fingers from the quills, we thought, verily, that the hell might be about to toll.

However, an islander who had been through arizo encounters many times assured us that the arizo wasn't poisonous and that the tips of the quills would exit from the fingers by the next day—which, to our profound relief, did just that.

IN ADDITION to looking in on the tropical fish in the lagoons, another activity of Cozumel that has become a favorite with tourists is a kind of Robinson Crusoe-type boat trip. Although it is an organized tour, it is one of the most informal and non-touristy tours the traveler will find in the Caribbean.

With a two-man crew, a native SCUBA diver and a handful of tourists all equipped with face masks and swim suits, the boat cruises south along the leeward shore—stopping now and then while the diver spears a variety of fish for lunch and retrieves a bucketful of conch shells, the meat of which will be used for a salad.

The boat makes a stop at Chancanab for a snorkeling stint and then continues on to all of the places—San Francisco Beach, a curving stretch of white, ever-so-soft sand, set against a background of coconut trees.

The boat pulls in at the beach and while the crew cleans and cooks the fish that have been caught en route, the travelers dip into the Caribbean or stretch out on the sand.

Lunch is soon ready and in that kind of setting, under a thatched roof with the jungle all around, it is superb.

After this kind of experience and after a week on the island, you can't help but feel that the good people of Cozumel are an extraordinarily fortunate lot. For they are living in a most beautiful, natural and idyllic setting and in the busy, ever-shrinking world in which we live, that is a state of affairs that can only be envied.

Thanksgiving Quotes Listed

Samuel Chandler

NEED A POEM for Thanksgiving, a picture, a prayer? Let me refer you to the Thanksgiving issue of Ideals magazine. Here are 100 pages of simple verses and pictures to match. This is a storehouse of rhyme and quotes that may be used to open a meeting, to introduce a speaker, or to spice a program.

The sentiments expressed are as homey as Grandma's lye soap, and the pictures are as rural as Borden's cow. The whole format relates to a life gone from the American scene. Yet, this magazine appeals to something that lingers with most of us.

Maybe it is a universal homesickness for Grandma's house; maybe a tinge of revolt against modern urbanity. Perhaps many of us long to retreat from the speed of mid-twentieth century living.

Maybe down deep a lot of Americans would trade their television sets and their automobiles for the simple things expressed by the rhymesters in the Thanksgiving Ideals: "The pumpkins huddled round the fodder shocks" or "these crimson tinted trees, the maple birch and elm, spread vivid glory overhead, in a wondrous gaudy realm," or "the country road where mailboxes huddle together like old men chatting about."

PERHAPS Anne Campbell speaks for many of us when she cries: "I'm tired of bells and whistles, And I hear the country call... Oh riding on a cow rack Is the greatest fun of all."

On the other hand, maybe the Thanksgiving Ideals is popular because it shows autumn in her array of colors. "Nature at her best," says Mary Fink, "In gorgeous costumes gayly dressed, Every leaf and flower and tree, Joins in the happy revelry."

A somewhat different type of Thanksgiving book is a volume in Robert Haven Schauflier's Our American Holidays series. This is the classic in the field. Schauflier has divided the Thanksgiving volume into five sections: Origin, celebration, the spirit of Thanksgiving, the Thanksgiving season, and exercises.

THE LAST section answers the request for a pageant, or a tableau, for the Thanksgiving season. The pageant thus presented is Marion S. Blaisdell's "Thanksgiving in the Past and Present." It can be presented in an ordinary room with no more setting than a table, a low stool, and a few props.

The other sections contain a variety of selections of poems and prose. Their subjects range from Thanksgiving in the most sophisticated house to a table in a country cottage.

Robert Haven Schauflier must be set down as a real benefactor to mankind. His various series cover Christmas, Thanksgiving, Halloween, festivals, patriotic days, and special occasions. Thanks to the generosity of the Friends of the Daly City Public Library, the library has copies of the book.

CSM Choir Will Sing 'Magnificat'

A performance of "Magnificat" by Bach will highlight College of San Mateo's annual Christmas choral concert in the campus little theater at 8:15 p.m. on Dec. 14.

Both the 100-voice student cappella choir and 24-voice chorale will appear on the program, conducted by R. Galet Marshall of the faculty, with John C. Hancock as accompanist.

Two noted members of the San Francisco Symphony—English horn soloist Raymond Duster and trumpeter Edward Haug—recently returned from a tour with the Roger Wagner Chorale, will join the a cappella choir in the "Magnificat" presentation.

Vocal soloists will be Roger Bowers, bass, of San Mateo; Sue Costa, alto, of Atherton; Jane Fox, soprano, of 278 Dundee Drive in South San Francisco.

D.C. Churches Unite for A Thanksgiving Eve Service

Churches of Daly City will join in a Thanksgiving Eve service tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the Seaciff Community Church, 50 Northridge Drive, according to the Rev. Kenneth Hanson, president of the Ministerial Association.

In order to allow maximum opportunity for thinking about and participating in prayers of thanksgiving, the service has been divided into four segments, with a devotional message in each portion.

"The Home, and Personal Faith," meditation by the Rev. Howard Bryant, pastor of the Second Baptist Church.

"The Church and Christian Fellowship," meditation by the Rev. Herbert Tweedie, pastor of the Broadmoor Presbyterian Church.

"The Nation, Freedom and Justice," meditation by the Rev. Hansel Stembridge, pastor of the Westlake Community Baptist Church.

"The World and Peace," meditation by the Rev. Vernon Thomas, pastor of the Broadmoor Church of the Nazarene.

In addition to the brief "sermonette" in each section, a pastor will lead in a prayer of thanksgiving and petition for that particular emphasis.

A combined choir will sing the traditional "Prayer of Thanksgiving," under the direction of Paul Lundberg, choir director for Calvary Cross Community Church. Those interested in singing in the combined choir should be at the Seaciff Church by 7:30 p.m. for a brief practice.

Each singer will bring his own choir robe.

Lutherans Set Advent Services

Advent services will be held each Sunday evening during Advent at Bethlehem Lutheran Church in Fairmont according to Rev. George S. Johnson, pastor.

The first Advent service on Sunday will feature a special speaker, Walter Johnson of South San Francisco.

Johnson is a member of the District Evangelism Committee of the American Lutheran church. There will also be a presentation on the meaning of Advent.

On the three successive Sunday evenings there will be dramatizations and Sunday School Christmas programs. Each service will begin at 7 p.m.

Thanksgiving services will be held at Bethlehem Thursday at 10 a.m.

Pastor Johnson's sermon topic will be "Thankful for Your Partnership."

Free transportation will be provided.

Subject Set For Sermon

Sunday's sermon topic is "Is America on the Road to Ruin?" at the Broadmoor Presbyterian Church at 377 Eighty-seventh Street in Daly City.

At the 9:30 a.m. worship service the Church Choir will sing "This is the Lord's Day" as directed by Dorothy Spratt.

Del Severy is music director, Jack Harder the organist, and Herbert Tweedie the pastor. A friendly coffee time follows each service when the year's new church members will be honored.

The church will co-operate in the Union Thanksgiving Eve service Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the Seaciff Community Church at 50 Northridge Drive in Daly City.

Lutherans To Hold Service

Bethel Lutheran Church at 2525 Alameda Boulevard in Daly City will observe Thanksgiving Day with a special service of praise Thursday at 10 a.m.

Special music will be rendered by the senior choir under the direction of Mrs. Dale McKinney, and by the junior choir under the direction of Gladys Schultz. The organist is Mrs. Abel Fabella.

The Rev. Herbert P. Schroeder will preach on the subject: "Attitude of Gratitude."

Bethel Church is participating in the Lutheran World Relief Program. During Thanksgiving week the members of the congregation are bringing clothing and bedding to share with the needy throughout the world.

In 1964 Lutheran World Relief sent 57 million pounds of food into distressed areas overseas. Two all-Lutheran clothing appeals netted more than 6 million pounds of usable clothing. Medical supplies valued at $785,085 went to nine countries.

Pacifica Unit To Sing Messiah

The Pacifica Community Chorus will perform Handel's "Messiah" Sunday, December 12 at 4 p.m. at Our Savior's Lutheran Church in Rockaway Beach, Pacifica.

The oratorio will be conducted by Dr. Leonard Beck who also directs the San Francisco First Congregational Church Choir.

Baptists Map A Study Hour

Tomorrow night at 7:45 p.m. the prayer and Bible study hour of the Westside Baptist Church will meet at the church parsonage at 3370 Longview Drive, San Bruno.

Pastor Donnelly will lead in a doctrinal study, this one dealing with the second coming of Christ.

Friday morning, four high school youths representing Westside Baptist High School CYF, along with Pastor Donnelly, will travel to Santa Maria for the annual CYF delegate convention. The group will meet with youth from the 24 other conference Baptist churches of Northern California, for this one-day youth conference.

The hosts for the meeting will be the high school youth of the Grace Baptist Church, Rev. William Larson, pastor.

Guest speaker and workshop leader for this conference will be Rev. Rodney Toews, minister of education at the Lakewood Baptist Church, Lakewood, Calif. Reverend Toews, graduate of Bethel Seminary, has been on the staff of the Lakewood church for a number of years, and is in wide demand as a workshop leader.

Scientists To Hold Meeting

A Thanksgiving Day service will be held Thursday at 11 a.m. at First Church of Christ Scientist at Pacifica.

No collections will be taken. Hymns of Thanksgiving will be sung, and a brief Bible lesson-sermon will include quotations from science and health with key to the scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy.

A portion of the one-hour service will be devoted to spontaneous testimonies of gratitude, by individuals in the congregation, for blessings which have come into their experience through the study and application of Christian Science.

The Thanksgiving Day Proclamation of the President of the United States, or the governor of California, or both, will be read by the first reader as part of the service.

Herb-Baked Fish Steaks For Dinner

Those good swordfish buys in local supermarkets may be used to advantage by the Peninsula housewife when she has recipes on hand like this.

HERB-BAKED FISH STEAKS

2 lbs. fish steaks (such as, cod, haddock, salmon, swordfish, or halibut)
1/2 cup butter or margarine
4 cloves garlic, sliced
1/3 cup minced onion
1/4 teaspoon tarragon
1/4 teaspoon parsley flakes
1/4 teaspoon thyme
Dash nutmeg
Dash mace
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1/2 cup fine dry bread crumbs

Arrange steaks on foil in a shallow baking dish. Melt butter or margarine in a saucepan. Add sliced garlic and cook until garlic is soft. Remove garlic. Add onion and saute until tender. Add remaining ingredients except bread crumbs; stir to blend. Spoon about half of mixture over fish steaks. Add crumbs to remaining herb mixture; stir to blend. Spread crumbs over steaks. Bake in a 400 degree (hot) oven 20 minutes or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Barbecue Cue Gives Riblets Lots of Style

Outside barbecues for this year may be history in some areas but barbecuing can be done right in the oven any season. It's an especially good cooking technique for thrift-packed riblets.

Lamb riblets are an appetite-appealing, thrifty meat cut. They're easily cooked and easy to eat and are usually browned first to add to their attractive appearance.

Once browning is finished, the riblets, in this recipe, are covered and cooked slowly until done. Youngsters who like the barbecue touch will go for them. The one-rib size makes them ideal for eating.

Barbecued Lamb Riblets
b to 5 pounds lamb riblets
Salt
Pepper
Barbecue Sauce

Brown riblets in own fat. Pour off drippings. Season. Cover with Barbecue Sauce and cook slowly on top of range or in a slow oven (300 degrees F.) 1 1/2 hours or until done. Six servings.

To prepare Barbecue Sauce: Cook one medium-sized onion, chopped, in two tablespoons butter or margarine. Add two tablespoons vinegar, two tablespoons brown sugar, 1/4 cup lemon juice, one cup catsup, three tablespoons Worcestershire sauce, one cup water, one teaspoon salt and a dash of cayenne pepper. Mix well.

According to home economists, meringue pies will weep if too much sugar is added. The sugar is not thoroughly blended.

They are set in a draft to cool. The meringue is not sealed to the shell.

Treats For After Game Or Bowling

Planning a get-together at your house after golfing? swimming? bowling? watching a ball game? Why not offer simply a snappy appetizer cheese tray with assorted chilled soups and/or juices? It's perfect for parties as pre-dinner nibbling, too.

Appetizer cheese trays are not as much trouble as one might think. These conversation piece tid-bits are easily prepared ahead of time, refrigerated until time to serve.

Zesty Cheese Balls. These will disappear so fast that we suggest you have a good supply on hand. To softened cream cheese add a touch of horse-radish, minced parsley and minced onion, olives or garlic. OR to a mixture of blue cheese and cream cheese add a bit of Worcestershire and Tabasco sauces. Shape either or both mixtures into balls and roll in finely cut chopped beef (scissors are good for this), minced parsley, grated raw carrot or chopped nuts. Celery sticks and/or shoe string potatoes make excellent edible skewers.

Cheese Pecans. Shape cream cheese or a mixture of blue cheese and cream cheese into oblong balls. Flatten cheese balls slightly and press two pecan or walnut halves to flattened sides. Simple, isn't it?

Radish Surprises. These will pleasantly surprise the most jaded taste buds. Cut small radishes in half length-wise and spread with seasoned cream cheese. Chill and serve. For a dramatic touch leave a bit of stems and tops on radishes.

Fat Fellows. We think you'll go for these "fat fellows." Fill and stuff small steamed or partially cooked prunes with a piece of sharp cheddar cheese. Wrap each stuffed prune in an uncooked bacon strip. Secure bacon with wooden pick. Broil on all sides until bacon is crisp. Serve while deliciously hot.

Pick-a-Dills. Place a slice of dill pickle on a round of buttered bread. Sprinkle it with shreds of cheddar cheese and slip under the broiler until cheese is melted and browned. Large stuffed olive slices can be used instead of the pickle for variety.

FOOD COSTS

Only 19 cents out of every dollar is spent on food in the United States, which is a bargain any way you look at it, quality or quantity or nutritional wise.

Think of the servings you get from a large roast, served the first time as a roast, then part of the remainder sliced for sandwiches, or heated in leftover gravy to go over noodles or biscuits. What's left from that can be ground and combined with chopped celery and pickle with enough mayonnaise for salad or sandwiches.

To make eight servings of spiced hot chocolate, heat five cups of chocolate milk. Stir in 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon and 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg. Pour into cups and top with a plump marshmallow.

North Coast Water Unit Receives Safety Award

JOSEPH A. GUIFFRE
Gets Promotion

A safety progress award has been given to the North Coast County Water District in Pacifica for the second time in three years.

The safety record commendation by the American Waterworks Association was reported by District Manager Harland Hill at a district meeting last week.

With the award, said Hill, will be a $745 refund premium from Workmen's Compensation to go into the district's insurance fund. Competition with all water districts in the country, including Hawaii, was necessary for qualification for the safety award, stated Hill.

In other business, the district's board of directors directed its attorney, Thomas Jenkins, to join the attorney general's office in a pipe price fixing suit. Hill described the possibility, if the suit is successful, of "getting some money back."

Terence McCarty, a director from Stone and Youngberg, a bonding and investment company, discussed a federal government grant available to water districts when water facilities are used also for recreational purposes.

The dual use, he said, would enable the district to receive 50 per cent of the cost of land from the federal government.

Scouts Will Hold Annual S.F. Dinner

Over 25,000 boys enrolled in more than 800 units of the Boy Scouts will benefit from the reports and plans of the San Francisco Bay Area Council at its annual dinner at the Claremont Hotel in Berkeley on December 2, reports President Arch Monson Jr.

Highlight of the evening's program will be the dramatic presentation of Silver Beaver Awards for distinguished service to boyhood to 10 local Scout leaders. Names of these men will not be divulged until the moment of presentation. During the past 45 years in Scouting's history fewer than 500 such awards have been made, this being the highest honor a local council can bestow on its outstanding volunteer men.

The San Francisco Bay Area Council in 1965 ranks high among the 28 councils in cities of 500,000 or more. The national slogan: "Breakthrough for Youth" has been translated into local terms of "Come Through for Youth," and a special program to underscore that effort is being prepared by dinner chairman Robert M. Jones, assistant controller of Pacific Tel-phone, and his committee. Nearly 6,000 boys from 316 different troops in the council area spent a week or more at camp this year. These boys came from Oakland to Livermore and Fremont in Alameda County, to San Francisco and Daly City and Brisbane in San Mateo County. Some boys traveled as far away as the Sierras, to New Mexico, and even to Hawaii to sample Scout camping facilities. The entire Scout program, available to boys ages 8 through 17, will become a personal matter to the volunteer leaders and their friends at the Claremont Hotel dinner, as they set their plans to "Come Through for Youth." Reservations by inter-

"WHAT CHRISTMAS MEANS TO ME"

JANICE ANTOSIK
240 Bancroft Rd., Burlingame, California

Janice is 10 yrs. old and attends the Washington
Grammar School. She has a brother 19 and 2 sisters ages 17 and 13. Janice likes to work with her hands and likes to draw. For the past 2 years she has been taking piano lessons. She is a member of Girl Scout Troop #494, Burl. and on the safety patrol at school.
Her poodle named "Napoleon" and a parakeet named
"Snowflake," leave her no idle moments.
"Usually Christmas starts for me on the 1st of December," writes Janice. "I think about presents, giving and getting, Christmas trees, lists, and a dent in your money. Generally the thing I think of is the first Christmas. It sounds so nice and pleasant, but it's fun to think of Santa Claus riding through the air. This is what Christmas Means To Me."

JOHN LAMBERTSON
332 Warren Rd., San Mateo, California

6 year old John is in the first grade at the San Mateo Park Grammar School. He has an older brother 8 and a younger brother 4. He also has two sisters ages 9 and 5. Football and nature study are his two prime hobbies at the present. He has a pet poodle dog named
"Molly." John printed in his own words: "Christmas is a time to share. It is a time to play. It's a time when to play. It's a time when Jesus was born."
